

Funeral of Raymond Hay's.

The funeral of the late Raymond Hay's was held at his former home at Newport yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. T. I. McRea, of Mingo Junction, an uncle of the deceased, whose words were a touching tribute to his character and family.

The funeral was one of the largest ever held in Newport, almost the entire village being present besides a number from Marietta and other points, who were anxious to participate in the last sad rites.

—Wells Penwell was a visitor at Parkersburg yesterday.

—Dr. O. A. Lambert has returned from Chicago where he has been for some time on professional business.

—Miss Leslie, of Oil City, Pa., arrived Monday to attend the Alexander-Leeper wedding on Wednesday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willard S. Richardson, of New York City, arrived Tuesday to attend the Alexander-Leeper wedding.

—Dr. James F. Leeper and wife, of Rural Dale, O., and Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Brown, of Zanesville, came in last evening to attend the Alexander-Leeper wedding this evening.

Court Items.

The case of Elizabeth Morgenstern vs. Adam Kathary et al has been filed in the court of Common Pleas of this county.

The plaintiff prays that her interest in two tracts of land situated in Warner, O., and Caldwell, O., be set off to her in severalty, and that the dower of Mary E. Kathary in the tract in the town of Caldwell, may be assigned to her, and that subject thereto partition may be made, or that such proceedings may be had as are authorized by law. F. J. Cutter, attorney for plaintiff.

STAGE VS. HANCOCK.

The case of Emma Stage vs. Winfield S. Hancock, administrator of the estate of Thomas A. Stage, deceased, has been filed in Common Pleas Court. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant as administrator of the estate of Thomas A. Stage, is indebted to her to the sum of $840 for work and services as household servant, nurse and farm manager, done by the plaintiff for Thomas A. Stage during his life time, and at his request, between January, 1896, and September, 1900, covering a period of 240 weeks, at $5.00 a week. The plaintiff further states that her account was presented to defendant and was rejected by him.

The plaintiff therefore prays for that amount with interest from Sept. 18, 1900. W. G. Way, attorney for plaintiff.

Resolutions Adopted.

Whereas, In the Providence of God, our circle has been broken by the death of our beloved classmate, Harry Raymond Hayes,

Resolved, 1. That we desire to record our high esteem of him as an ever genial and courteous associate of our school days, as an affectionate and dutiful son, and for the sterling qualities of character which won for him the confidence of all with whom he had social and business relations.

Resolved, 2. That in his death we realize that our class has lost an honored member, our young men a comrade, and example of industry, integrity and purity, and a home the strong heart of an elder son and brother who was ever its light and hope.

Resolved, 3. That we hereby express our sincere sympathy with his parents and brother in their crushing sorrow.

Resolved, 4. That these resolutions be spread on our Alumni Record and a copy of the same be sent to the friends of the deceased.

Class of '96, Newport High School, Newport, O., Nov. 27, 1900.

Ask Your Neighbor.

Hundreds of Marietta Citizens Can Tell You all About it.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Marietta people should be evidence beyond dispute for every Marietta reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors cheerfully given by them will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far away places. Read the following:

Mr. John Wieser, of 501 Warren street, says: "The prompt and thorough action of Doan's Kidney Pills should recommend them to every one suffering from their back or kidneys. I procured them at W. H. Styer's drug store and their use soon ended pains in my back and other evidences of a disturbed condition of my kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

GAMBLE-NELLY

Marriage of Two Prominent Young People at Parkersburg.

Last night at the Episcopal church in Parkersburg, in the presence of a host of well-wishing friends, the word were spoken that bind together for life Miss Ida Nelly and Mr. George Gamble.

The church was beautifully decorated and the ceremony was very impressive. Both parties to the marriage are well known in Marietta, and their friends here join those elsewhere in extending to them congratulations and well-wishes.

After a wedding trip, during which they will visit Chicago and other places, they will make Parkersburg their future home.

FORTY-FOOT STAGE

Of the River is Predicted by Mr. Vost, of Parkersburg.

The following information concerning the stage of the river was given us last evening by Mr. Vost of the Parkersburg Weather bureau:

At 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the stage at Pittsburg was 27-7, at 3 p. m. it was 27.3, which indicates that it is falling slowly at Pittsburg. Wheeling is advised to expect a run of 3 feet, not over 40. He states that the river here may reach a stage of 40 feet, not over 42.

Those wishing information can receive same by telephoning to Mr. Vost at the Weather Bureau, Parkersburg, after 10 o'clock this morning.

DRYING PREPARATIONS simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 55 Warren St., N. Y.

Work Commenced.

Work on the preliminary survey which is to be made for the electric railroad that is to be built from this place to Marietta by local parties was yesterday begun by Jackson and Knox, the engineers who have the contract for the work. The survey was begun near the Donaghoe pottery and will be continued on through the Ohio bottom. The work is to be completed as soon as possible and will be continued until completed. Jackson and Knox will give their personal supervision to the work, which insures its successful completion. The following corps will assist them in the survey: Joseph Horstman, of Cincinnati, transitman; H. W. Frazer, levelman; H. C. Higgs and J. W. Mobley, chainmen; Eugene Boyd, back flagman; William Perry, of Hinton, level rodman; and George Gulliver, axoman.—Parkersburg News.

WANTS LAW CHANGED

Corbin Claims Unjust Discrimination Against West Pointers.

Enlisted Men Eligible to Promotion to Commissions After Two Years —West Pointers Are Obligated to Serve Four Years.

Adj. Gen. Corbin, according to a New York Tribune special from Washington, has started a movement to induce congress to remove from the statute books a law that makes an unjust discrimination against West Pointers in the army. It is almost inexplicable, the adjutant says, that such legislation should ever have been enacted or have remained in force for 12 years as that which favors the promotion of enlisted men to commissions above the young men specially educated at government expense to fill commands.

In his current annual report Gen. Corbin devotes considerable space to the act of June 18 1878, which provided for the promotion to the grade of commissioned officer of meritorious non-commissioned officers who shall be found morally, intellectually and physically qualified for promotion, and the act of July 30, 1892, which extends to all unmarried soldiers under 30 years and possessing the requisite qualifications the privilege of competing at prescribed examinations for commissions.

That the law operated well in attracting to the ranks a superior class of intelligent young men was demonstrated by the yearly increasing number who obtained admission into the commissioned branch of the army. There were six in 1893, and 68 in 1900. These men were compelled to serve in the ranks only two years under the law, and, calling attention to this fact, Gen. Corbin says: "Experience has shown that two years is too brief a period in which enlisted men can fit themselves for the important duties of commissioned officers. It is only little less than travesty to say that a man can qualify as an officer by serving as an enlisted man in one-half the time required for a cadet to complete his course at West Point. It is recommended that the law be amended to read four years instead of two. This will put appointments from the ranks and the military academy on the same footing."

KAISER HAS A NEW BARBER.

Dismisses His Former Attendant Because of Undue Familiarity.

Emperor William's barber, Francois Haby, the inventor of his majesty's style of mustache, recently ventured to remark:

"What does your majesty think of China?" This so ruffled the emperor's temper that, taking Haby by the ear, he escorted the barber from his chamber. The incident has been laughed at throughout Berlin.

Apparently Francois Haby has returned to grace only to be again cast down, for it was announced May 10 last that it was frequently remarked during the then recent festivities that his majesty's mustache was no longer "turned upward so fiercely as formerly, but worn at an angle of 45 degrees only, with the ends no longer spreading out proudly."

It was added that it was a fact that the emperor had abandoned his former fashion of wearing his mustache, although all male Germany adhered to it, one reason being the dismissal of Haby, who had "become impudent and had presumed to trade upon his alleged friendly relations with the emperor."

PLAN TO REMOVE THE MAINE.

Objections Made to the Use of Dynamite—Coffer Dam to Be Built.

Captain of the Port Young has asked the government to refuse any and all proposals looking to the removal of the wreck of the United States battleship Maine by explosives. Last year three firms offered to remove the hull of the battleship in return for the material, but there has always been a strong objection to the use of dynamite, because of the probability that there are portions of bodies still in the wreck, and the authorities shrink from the idea of desecration.

A scheme has been submitted involving the construction of a coffer dam, the pumping out of the water and taking of the wreck apart in pieces; and work on this line will probably begin next month.

An Alpine Garden.

At Schachen, in the Bavarian Alps, at an elevation of 1,500 meters, an Alpine garden has been laid out and planted by a foreman of the Munich Botanical garden. The plan and outline of the work were furnished by Prof. Gobel. The land is the property of the crown. It is intended next year to build a blockhouse and furnish it with the necessary comforts for the use of scientific visitors. Alpine gardens already exist near Innsbruck, in the Dauphiny, in Italy, and on the Maritime Alps. This Bavarian garden will be the means of rescuing the finest Alpine plants from destruction.

KNOCKS A HORSE DOWN.

W. K. Vanderbilt's Auto in Collision with Fish Wagon—Promises Driver New Horse.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., had a narrow escape from serious injury the other afternoon in a collision with a fish wagon. He was making his way west through Fifty-first street, bound for a spin up the road. He had just reached Fifth avenue when a strong gust of wind swept up the street, and, catching the light locomobile, almost lifted it off its wheels.

At this moment John Lullman, of 102 East Eighty-second street, drove down the avenue in a fish wagon.

Mr. Vanderbilt struggled to get his locomobile clear of the wagon, but he could not manage it, and he ran into the horse, sending the animal to the pavement.

The locomobile was instantly stopped and Mr. Vanderbilt quickly jumped out.

"I am sorry," he said, apologetically to the driver. "It was my fault. Here is my card. If you want another horse call at my house and I'll get one for you."

Lullman at first was inclined to say unpleasant things, but when he read the name on the card a look of blank astonishment spread over his countenance.

"That's all right, Mr. Vanderbilt," he stammered. "I don't think the nag's much hurt. Just a little bit scraped on the legs. But I'll tell the boss. He knows you're good for a horse, I guess."

M'KINLEY TO GET BIG TURKEY

Rhode Island Man Securing State for Bird for President's Thanksgiving Day Dinner.

For a number of years the table of the president of the United States has been annually graced Thanksgiving day by a big Rhode Island turkey. Somewhere in the southern part of the commonwealth there is to-day a handsome specimen of this famous breed of bird strutting about the farmyard in the pride of its 35 pounds which a few days before the national holiday will be decapitated, carefully dressed, and dispatched to the white house for President McKinley's dinner.

The late Senator Anthony, of Rhode Island, sent the first Rhode Island turkey to a president, and after his death the late Senator Nathan F. Nixon continued the custom. Since Senator Dixon's death Horace Vose has annually sent to the white house at Thanksgiving the handsome bird of the species he could find within the borders of the state. The biggest one ever presented to a president was given to President Grant. It tipped the scales at 38 pounds.

PLANS "IDEAL" NEWSPAPER.

Parkhurst Behind Movement to Establish a Paper That Can Afford to Tell the Truth.

Dr. Parkhurst declares that men of riches have under consideration the establishment in New York city of "an ideal" newspaper. He declares that an endowed theater is also a possibility for New York. "At the present time," he is quoted as saying, "there are those who are anxiously considering the matter of establishing a journal for the purpose of telling the truth and sufficiently capitalizing it so that it will have no trouble in telling the truth. In a certain respect the newspapers are like our theaters. It has come to be a fact in the city of New York—I have it from those who are constant attendants at the theaters—that a theater, as a rule, cannot be made to pay unless there is more or less of that in it which is objectionable. The only way in which a first-class theater can be maintained is by its being endowed. Now the same words apply to the average newspaper. The papers now are run on a business plan. They are not leading the public. Some papers are run for political ends, because with them politics is going to put money into the till."

WILL REVOLUTIONIZE LONDON.

Plans Network of Suburban Electric Lines with Groups of Low-Rent Houses.

Charles Yerkes' plan of a comprehensive system of underground railways in London is the first deliberate effort to grapple with the housing programme of the English metropolis, and if he can succeed in his dream he will revolutionize the life of London and earn the undying gratitude of British workmen.

His idea is to have a complete network of lines radiating north, south, east and west to considerable distances from the heart of the metropolis, and then to have workmen's cottages built in healthy districts served by railways.

This is a tremendous scheme, but Mr. Yerkes is also said to be interested in a scheme for cutting a ship canal from Southampton to London, a distance of just 80 miles.

German Owners of Forest.

The royal Prussian family is the largest owner of forest tracts in Germany. Its property consists of not less than 185,500 acres. The southern branch of the Hohenzollerns owns a tract of 130,000 acres. The prince of Stolberg-Wernigerode owns forest covering 119,000 acres. The timber lands of the prince of Pless comprise 104,000 acres.
